

Starting Our Own Red Book

Recently, the private journal of C.G.Jung was published. It is called the Red Book. It is a huge remarkable book that contains Jung's dream images, private writings and breathtaking personal art. It is a witness to Jung's rediscovery of his soul. Often he encouraged others to write their own Red Books which we will do at this workshop. Each participant is asked to bring a fresh special Journal favorite pen and something to draw with (colored pencils, crayons, etc.) as we create our own Red Books. We will preview and discuss Jung's Red Book as we each do private creating (writing, art, dreams, poems, memories, reflections). Suggestions and instruction will be given.

Space is limited so reserve your spot today.
